

International Policy or Intelligence Analyst - South Asia

Company Description

The RAND Corporation is a nonprofit research organization providing objective analysis and effective solutions that address the challenges facing the public and private sectors around the world. RAND has eight offices on three continents and RAND research teams work with government, corporate, and foundation clients domestically and internationally to advance informed decision making across a broad spectrum of policy areas.

Job Description:

RAND is seeking highly qualified South Asia (Pakistan and/or Afghanistan) regional specialists and intelligence analysts. Work ranges from broad strategic assessments to detailed analyses of political, defense, terrorism, weapons proliferation and other policy issues of interest to the U.S. defense and intelligence communities.

Educational requirements: MA/MS in policy analysis, political science, international relations, history, regional studies, or other social science field. At least five years of experience in policy planning and analysis.

Qualifications:

- South Asian (Pakistan and/or Afghanistan) regional expertise with a sub-specialty in military affairs, intelligence, counter insurgency and terrorism.
- Language skill in one or more of the following languages is strongly preferred: Urdu, Dari, Pashto.
- Secret Clearance required; Top Secret Clearance highly preferred.

Experience:

- At least five years of experience in policy planning and analysis.
- Intelligence/defense policy planning and analysis experience highly preferred.

Locations: Santa Monica, Washington, or Pittsburgh

To Apply:

For more information and to apply online, please visit our website at www.rand.org/jobs and reference Job ID# 2295. RAND offers competitive benefits including vacation pay, medical benefits, tuition reimbursement and relocation assistance. EOE.